Pupils are taught a broad and rich curriculum that is enhanced with as many trips, visits and experiences as possible. We believe it is vital that pupils get to see and do as much as possible. Not only does this create aspiration but we know that if you do something, you can talk about it and you can therefore write about it.

Our recent OFSTED inspection (November 2024) graded us as Outstanding or Good in all areas. They found that:

- The quality of education in the early years enables all children to make gains in their learning.
